

Street Credit is taking things to a new level with the launch of our new cryptocurrency project based on the Ethereum blockchain. This new StreetCredit crypto will facilitate peer to peer exchange, allowing holders to pay for products or to be paid for services in a secure and anonymous way without the need for a third party.

Created by an African American who is also the founder of Street Credit Anthony Johnson aka "Mista Tony" designed it to help build communities by donating a percentage of the tokens to charities and non-profits of various types who are working to change the world for the better.

As the use of the crypto grows, the value of the tokens should increase as well, allowing holders to convert StreetCredit into fiat currency or other cryptocurrencies for use in a traditional economy, in much the same way as Bitcoin or Dogecoin.

Street Credit will continue to provide entertainment through various streaming channels and social media, while at the same utilizing our platforms to bring more awareness and ultimately ubiquity in adoption of StreetCredit currency. The future of community building through ecommerce is already here.
